

Enterprise Resource Planning

ISIRAN ERP leading-edge ERP technology has provided manufacturers and distributors with one flexible, easy-to-learn solution, offering complete visibility, and operational standardization through a range of business tools that help run a business efficiently and profitably.

ISIRAN total business solution now offers the all new browser-based, multi lingual Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP), a flexible and modular Enterprise Application to help organizations adopt best business practices. ISIRAN ERP System improves every aspect of the way you manage and operate your business. For more than decades ISIRAN ERP software application has been ensuring “Enterprise from various manufacturing segments” that have come on-board; to align business activities by technology from general planning to detailed planning (programming) to execution and control.

With ISIRAN total business solution managers can be rest assured of their day-to-day operations running smoothly and they can address constantly changing regulatory standards and mitigate risk. ISIRAN ERP System can be configured by users to suit industry-specific or organization-specific, scalable and global, also can help keep you well ahead of the competition and take control of enterprise resource planning.

System	Status	Name	Status
Financial Management	Ready	Inventory Management	Ready
Production Planning	Ready	Sale & Export Management	Ready
Human Resources Management	Ready	Purchase & Import	Ready
Costing System	Ready	management	Under development
		Customer Relation Management	Ready
Document Management System	Ready	Maintenance Management
Quality Management	Ready	Project System	Ready
Document Management (DMS)	Ready	Business intelligence (BI)	Ready

In today's highly competitive marketplace, businesses face substantial pressures to improve product and service delivery, as well as reduce operating costs, specifically in the areas of product development, inventory, material planning, and production management, scheduling, sales and marketing.

To successfully compete, these same businesses need to leverage innovative technologies that can bring about the necessary product improvements and cost reductions, and to continue delivering top-quality customer service. In modern distributed enterprises, proliferation of documents, demand for access to them and the need to work with them concurrently / collaboratively are all growing exponentially. Highly valuable content is created every day across global networks among cross-disciplinary teams

ISIRAN Total Business Solution consists of various components that can be implemented completely or modular in any organization, factory, business center and any center that have management issue in purchase, sale, inventory and warehousing, manufacturing and production planning, financial and accounting, human resource management and planning, maintenance management, document management system, projects management and control, contract management, supply chain management and so on. All of these systems are integrated together and present via the web for clients.

