

INTRODUCTION

Dana has gathered existing data by monitoring news sites, social networks and some websites in cyberspace. Then, using intelligent methods; it transforms the data into information and knowledge. Dana's system analyzes collected data and provides reports in a variety of charts and helps decision makers of government agencies and large industrial owners.

MAIN FEATURES

- Ability to identify the formation of a particular news
- Ability to detect public opinion on various social networks
- Detecting public opinion based on specific topic
- Investigating influential people on social networks
- Ability to compare social networking thoughts
- Ability to identify people creating waves
- Ability to detect the growth trend of the Twitter network at the moment
- Ability to identify people focused on a specific topic
- Ability to present various and diverse reports
- Ability to identify the hottest topics in social networks and news
- Ability to provide bulletins from social networks or specific topics

