

GENERAL SPECIFICATIONS

- Preparing and implementing study projects and applied researches in the field of physical, human, economic, and geopolitical geography.
- Determining criteria of military geography in national land use planning (defensive land use) .
- Collecting and compiling geographic information in the form of encyclopedias, atlases and geographical books.
- Performing studies, researches and analysis on environmental hazards and events.

Geospatial Information Systems (GIS)

GENERAL SPECIFICATIONS

- Creating the necessary base for implementing a comprehensive spatial data bank, providing satellite data and spatial services via internet and intranet.
- Implementing mobile and web-based GIS systems.
- Creating a national spatial data infrastructure to save, present and search spatial data.
- Designing and implementing desktop analytic systems based on open sources and commercial software.

